Statement Accompanying CPNI Certification

RouteSource Telecom, LLC ("RouteSource") hereby explains how its procedures comply with the requirements set forth in Section 64.2001 et seq. of the FCC's Rules.

RouteSource provides an Internet protocol based service to United States and foreign telecommunications carriers, delivering and carrying voice and data traffic to them on a "carrier's carrier" basis. RouteSource also provides similar services to IP based "softphone" providers in the United States and foreign points. RouteSource recently purchased its own switching facility.

At present, RouteSource has no information about the data transmitted on the circuits it resells. Accordingly, in connection with its service, RouteSource does not collect and thus does not possess any of the information defined as Customer Proprietary Network Information ("CPNI") in Section 222(f) of the Communications Act.

RouteSource has, however, instituted policies designed to protect the confidentiality of all customer information. All members of its staff have been instructed that customer information is confidential and is not to be shared with anyone outside RouteSource, except customers in the normal course of business. Should the nature of RouteSource's business be expanded to encompass the collection of CPNI, RouteSource will implement all necessary procedures to comply with FCC CPNI requirements.
